Quad Holds Open House Saturday With Variety Show and Dancing

The annual Quad Open House will be held Saturday from 7:30 to 12 in the Women's quadrangle. The six women's halls will open their lounges and recreation rooms to all Grinnellians for an informal evening of fun.

The Variety Show, a main feature composed of skits from the different halls, is scheduled at 8 p.m. and 10 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

King To Play

The Freddy King combo will furnish the music for dancing in Main corridor. The band will play from 8:30 to 11:30. Main lounge will feature informal recreation and refreshments of cider and cookies.

Each cottage will carry out its theme through decorations and individual activities.

Loose's co-social chairmen, Donie McGuffin and Chris Cochran, have announced their hall theme, the "Dior Flat Look." Carrying out the theme will be a fashion show held in their swank "salon" lounge.

Cafe Atmosphere

Cafe is the name of Read's gambling casino. Marilyn Postma, Read social chairman, also mentioned dancing, while the rec room features a "bar" serving refreshments.

Bringing out the cafe atmosphere is "Hernando's Hide-A-Way" in Haines. "A game room and one for dine and dance will carry out the theme," says Ann Beuckman, social chairman.

Fishie Kisses, dancing, King Neptune, and a fish pond make James an under-water paradise. Sally Crosby and Marjorie Voytilla, social co-chairmen, state that there will be refreshments of cookies and jelly beans.

The "Casbah," formerly Cleveland lounge, will feature a slave auction and a snake charmer. Jane Tangwall is in charge of the oriental beauties.

Funeral Theme

In contrast to the other cottages, Main will use a funeral theme. Ann Hruska is in charge of the preparations.

Faculty guests who will be present are: all of the south campus housemothers; Miss Isabelle MacCann, Miss Marjorie Michaels, Mrs. Farries, Miss Esther Daniels, dean of women Evelyn Gardner, Miss Berthana McCandless, dean of men Henry Brown and Mrs. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. William McKibben, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haner, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foster.

Tassels Chosen

New members of Tassels, the society to honor freshmen women who obtain a grade average of 3.5 or over, were announced Wednesday night in the quadrangle dining room.

The new Tassels are: Ruth Ballman, Haines; Anne Beuckman, Haines; Barbara Farries, Haines; Barbara Hansen, Haines; Phyllis Lockerbie, Loose; Ann Luhman, Loose; Marilyn Skalicky, Read; and Beth Turner, Read.

This year Mortar Board hopes to promote leadership and service as well as scholarship in Tassels.

3 Varsity, 5 Freshman Cheerleaders Selected

New varsity cheerleaders chosen Thursday are: Lynn Ayres and Marianne Johnson, Loose hall sophomores, and Robb Madgett Clark freshman, Mary Norelius, Loose hall senior, announced yesterday.

Freshman cheerleaders are Carolyn Hewes, James; Donna Jameson, James; Ginny Okubo, Main; Margie Voytilla, James; Lelia West, Main.

Seniors Interested In Graduate Work Should Seek Data

Acting Dean of the college Homer Norton said yesterday that all seniors who plan graduate study next year should begin getting information and applications from graduate schools in October and November.

Norton stated, "Every year some students are excluded from schools of their first choice, because they start their applications after places available in a department are filled.

"Early action is particularly important for students applying for scholarship and fellowships."

Clark, Gates Install TV Sets

Television sets are installed in two men's halls and two more north campus halls have definitely decided to purchase sets for their lounges.

Both Clark and Gates are enjoying good reception, and rotor-antennas will be installed in the halls soon. Cowles president, Carl Runge, said that his hall plans to purchase a TV set "Sometime soon."

Bernie Maldonado, television chairman in Dibble, reported that his hall would probably procure a set "next week." Maldonado quoted Norman Marble, superintendent of buildings and grounds, as saying he would pick up sets purchased in Des Moines while on the weekly trip there this Monday. Marble, wants to get the antennas up before cold weather sets in.

Smith in Stalemate

Smith's housemeeting last Monday night terminated in a stalemate vote on the question of television. Ten votes against buying a set were enough to stop action. Dewey Johnson, president of Rawson said his hall was not generally enthusiastic about the purchase of a television set, but that enough members were in favor to necessitate the appointment of a committee to price a set. Langan was to call a special housemeeting late this week, and north and south Younker are to bring it up for a vote at their next regular housemeeting.

Marshall Gives Views

Installation of the sets, said Tom Marshall, North president will bring more of the hall members into their lounges and tend to unite them instead of scatter them.

Clark president, Al Harrison, reported that the set in that hall also tended to aid in keeping quiet hours.

Dibble is using what they call the pro-rated system, wherein every member in the hall makes a flat payment, from which is subtracted a set fee for every year that he is in the hall, and the remainder of which is returned to him upon his departure from the hall ranks.

Dickinson, Hastings Propose Magazine As Literary Outlet

A new monthly magazine publication, "Maverick", was submitted for consideration at the English department meeting Monday by Bob Dickinson, Gates junior, and Charley Hastings, Clark Junior.

Dickinson and Hastings said, "The magazine would be printed by ordinary office duplicating processes. By abolishing commercial printing costs, the printing cost of the magazine would be reduced by some 95% from last year's Arena expenses. We hope to be able to pay staff and contributors of "Maverick."

Plans Very Tentative

Hastings stated that the proposed publication would probably contain 60% student material including essays, fiction, poetry and letters to the editor. Twenty-five per cent of the magazine would contain columns and features, campus and world politics, science, music, sports on and off campus, book and movie reviews, and college activities. The remaining 15% would probably be devoted to humor.

Grace Hunter (English) stated that the English department has taken no action, but that "We must have a magazine."

Herbert Prescott (English-journalism), president of the Board of Publications, stated "I have no thoughts on magazines until the Board of Publications meets Wednesday, at which time Arena will be discussed. We ought to have some outlet for creative writing."

School House Parents Here

Students who expect their parents for Parents' Day should make reservations no later than noon October 7, at the building and grounds office for housing at Pine Tree.

Single women will be housed on Mears second floor and hostesses should see Mrs. Blanche E. Thompson, Main housemother, about reservations.

Single men can be accommodated in the men's dormitories, and students should see Miss Esther Daniels in Cowles Lounge.

College Gives Parents' Day Program for Next Saturday

The college's fifth annual Parents' day will be held on October ninth. The parents of all Grinnell students are invited to the campus where they will find all game, and a dance in their honor.

Parents are invited to attend any classes regardless of whether or not their sons or daughters are registered in them. Parents are invited to confer with faculty members who will be in their offices during the morning for this purpose.

There will be an information desk set up in ARH where parents can register and pick up a list of the classes being held and a program for the day.

Football Featured

Grinnell gridgers meet Lawrence at 1:30 p.m. in the team's second home game of this season. The cross-country run is scheduled for 1 p.m. The fathers of the Grinnell team will sit on the bench with their sons and sport their sons' numbers on their backs. Parents will be honored at half-time.

Acting president Rupert A. Hawk and Mrs. Hawk invite parents and students to Younker lounge for coffee and doughnuts following the game.

Welch To Receive Degree At Convo

Joseph Nye Welch, nationally-famous attorney who served as counsel for the Army during the televised Army-McCarthy hearings last spring, will be awarded his first honorary degree at an all-college assembly on Sunday at 3 p.m. in Darby fieldhouse.

A Grinnell alumnus of the class of 1914, Welch will be honored by his alma mater with an honorary doctorate of laws. He will address the convocation on "An Old Graduate Reminisces," and the event is open to the public without charge.

Nason, Young Wed In Chapel Sunday

Carole Nason and John Young (class of '54) will be married this Sunday, at 3:30 p.m., in the College Chapel by Reverend C. W. Batten, minister of the Melbourne Methodist church. The wedding service is open to anyone who is able to attend. Following the wedding a private reception will be held at the Grinnell Country Club.

Prep Duties Begin For Frosh Women

Prep duties for freshman women began September 28 and will last until Friday, October 8. Prepping occurs earlier and lasts for a shorter time than last year.

Duties during this time consist of wearing prep caps from 7 a.m. until 6 p.m., staying off the grass, opening doors of public buildings for upperclass women, and carrying matches for them at all times.

Must Learn Songs

They must be prepared to sing their own hall song and the first verse of "Here Come the Pioneers," "Sons of Old Grinnell," and the "Grinnell Hymn." Preps must smile and speak to all upperclass women and give their name and hall when commanded to "Halt and identify yourself."

They are also obliged to start introductions at meals and sit at the foot of the table to pour water and coffee in the dining room. Next week is Hell Week for the women.

Gadabouts Hold Dance

Parents will be guests of honor at the Gadabouts' dance Saturday evening at 8:30 in the women's gym. Dean of the Chapel, Winston L. King, will speak in college church on Sunday morning at 11:30, and all parents are invited.

Registration desks will be set up in Main hall, Younker lounge, and the union on Friday evening and Saturday morning, and in front of Ward field before the football game. The football game will be free to those parents who are wearing registration badges. Mortar Board, Women's Honor G, and APO are in charge of registration.

Students are asked to make housing and meal arrangements for their parents in advance. Meal tickets are available from the foods office in Cleveland. Charges are $.85 for breakfast, $1.25 for lunch, and $1.50 for dinner. Limited accommodations

Unable to attend his class's 40th reunion in June, Welch will be further honored Sunday at a special dinner preceding the assembly. Among guests will be members of the Grinnell classes of 1913, 1914, and 1915, as well as several trustees, faculty members, and friends of the college. Acting President Rupert A. Hawk has invited the senior class to the meal.

Following his address Welch will meet briefly with the student members of Grinnell's Pre-Law club.

A member of the Boston law firm of Hale and Dorr since 1917, Welch attended Harvard law school following his graduation from Grinnell. The youngest of seven children, he was born in Primghar and attended grade and high schools there.

John R. Heath, a vice president of the Board of Trustees and a Grinnell graduate of the class of 1919, will introduce Welch, and Earl D. Strong, professor of economics and business and a member of the class of 1909, will present him for the degree.

Publications Comment

The fact that the nationally televised hearings in Washington, D.C. last June prevented Welch from returning to Grinnell for his 40th reunion was a matter of state-wide interest.

The Des Moines Tribune commented editorially that while sorry Welch couldn't take time out for the trip "we'll wager that his fellow alumni have seen more of him in the last two months . . . than in the last 44 years."

As special Army counsel, Welch enjoyed a sudden rise to fame. His face and speech became familiar to millions of television viewers, and his life story was repeated in newspapers and magazines in every part of the country.

Time magazine characterized him as "easily the smoothest performer, and perhaps the ablest lawyer in the McCarthy hearings" and "though . . . a superb actor . . . no lightweight; he has a foxy, seasoned legal mind."

for parents will be available in Pine Tree, and students should make reservations in Mr. Marble's office in the heating plant.

Count To Be Taken

A letter from the Parents' Day Committee was sent to all parents. A tentative count of the parents intending to visit the campus will be taken at house meetings on Monday.

Apply for Showcase

Applications are being taken this week for students wishing to participate in the freshman showcase, the Grinnell Players announced this week. The play, "The Haunted" from Eugene O'Neill's, "Mourning Becomes Electra" will be given December 2 and 3.

All freshmen who apply will be given parts.
