

[Background: steady, confident patriotic music]

MILLER-MEEKS:

This is Congresswoman Mariannette Miller-Meeks.

As a 24-year Army veteran, I know what it means to defend this country. That's why I've worked closely with President Trump to deliver what U.S. Customs and Border Control calls "the most secure border in over fifty years". Together, we ended catch-and-release, are stopping the flow of deadly drugs, and keeping dangerous criminals out of our communities.

But border security isn't just a southern issue. Fentanyl and human trafficking reach every corner of America, including right here in Iowa. That's why I'll never stop fighting to keep our communities safe.

And I'm just as proud to stand with the brave men and women of law enforcement who risk their lives every day to protect us. They deserve our full support, our respect, and the resources to do their jobs safely.

Strong borders. Safe communities. That's how we keep Iowa, and America, secure.

Paid for by official funds authorized by the House of Representatives.

(Source: U.S. Customs and Border Protection)