Hello Mason,

I was confused by this part of a recent Des Moines Register article:

The Iowa State Patrol has a hangar in Ankeny for the governor's plane, and Kalwishky said the Iowa Air National Guard will break ground in March on a hangar for an executive plane to serve high-ranking officers.

What is the "governor's plane"? I am not aware of any state-owned plane for Governor Reynolds to use, or any private plane owned by the governor.

Thanks in advance for any clarification or comments you can provide.

Yours,

Laura
